Stand up and be counted! That was the cry from two managers who have come from nowhere. In what is shaping up as a Leicester City style season, Luke Coles is obviously the leader and likely love child of a Vardy-Barrie hook up, but now he has to hold off two managers who are also trying to take advantage of so called “seasons of transition” from the normal big guns.

Cieran, a newbie that no one really knows anything about goes from nowhere to second with a GW high 87. Closely followed by Jed Begley, whose 83 places him in 3rd when he has no right being anywhere near the top. Tommy Starr is already yesterdays wet dream as he begins to fade from the memories of earlier reports. Elsewhere Smolly BazBall approach saw him start fast and then dip, but beginning to understand the game better has seen him pick back up and his healthy 81 propels him into 7th. Barrie and Steve have poor weeks as they expect to say their goodbyes to the report next week. Nick Bellamy continues to lurk and Raspin and Binns do enough to stay in 5th and 6th.

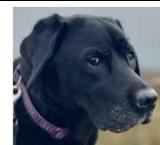

Matt Smolonogov @matt_smolly ...

I might be Aussie, I might not know what Im doing BUT I am fucking smashing it mate!! #aussie #fuckthepoms #whowontheashescunts???????

WALKER DESTROYED BY BOY WONDER

The poster boy from Somerset County Council's changing room – Luke Coles – takes another step towards adulthood as he continues his remarkable season, defeating Scott Walker 57-66 to maintain his top spot challenge. Staying one point ahead of him is Gareth Binns, who did one over his ex-coach Steve Richardson in a relatively easy 57-68 victory. Tom G had look set to fade away as he has in the DUZZ league, however he ran up against an under-performing Andy and the 3 points keeps his ambitions of retaining the Div1 crown alive. Tom Kidd thought he has the Chairman's number this weekend as he was leading from the outset, however a shocking Sunday from Tom saw the more talented Chairman claim a victory that ends his 3 match losing streak. The 3 points for the Chairman sees him move back within shooting distance from the top, whereas Tom is now closer to the relegation zone than the top 3. We all expected Tom Starr to implode like a black hole, however we didn't expect it to be quite as quickly as this, as Liam Page secures a vital victory for his vain attempt to avoid relegation, again. Replacing Liam at the bottom of the league is Michael Charlish who got absolutely fucking battered by his so-called mate Raspin. Raspin walked in, chose his favourite Charlish, dipped in him batter, dropped him in the fryer and served him with chips. Again. Sam Taylor suffers another defeat as Steve Lesley produces one of his best performances of the season to remain in 13th. The crowds we not expecting a good performance from Alfie, but even they went home shocked at just how far Alfie has fallen. Well beaten by Michael this week. Spare a thought for Dan Western, as the one week where he wasn't shit, he ran into a freak week for Jed, who defeats him 71-83. Both in the bottom half so this is already more write up than they deserve. Stocker, soundly beaten by Sam Foreman, had little to say after. The crowds weren't expecting much, and the 41 points meant they all left in disbelief.

MBS STEALS NARROW VICTORY TO MOVE 2ND

Huge, huge victory for MBS as he and Kearns battled out a classic, with MBS securing a last-minute point to win 64-63. Victory sees Matt move up to 2nd place, which is surprising to the managers of Div1, who had to endure years of poor performances. Collis' bright start left many thinking that a resurgence was on the cards now that he has had 2 children and moved to the countryside. Those afternoons in his garden shed avoiding life were allowing him to focus on his team and would this result in a return to his golden years. Alas the only thing golden about Collis is his locks as Nick Bellamy beats him by a point and Collis begins his descent to Nick's level again. It wouldn't be fair to not give Barrie a little nod for his performance this weekend. Despite providing us with years of laughter at his misfortune, Barrie has picked up a bit of momentum and Greg was always going to be soundly beaten, like an egg, like an egg beaten by a blender. John only had to beat Alex Robins, which isn't hard and it was easily achieved. Goullis is sitting in a healthy position this season, 6th place is much higher than predicted and even though Jonathon is bottom, few expected him to win by 8 points. Freddie Hill reminded us all that he is only 9 years old this week, as Phil Miller gave the poor boy a beating. Loz casts an angry eye from Div2 North as he notes that the Division Average was only 54 in Div2 South, still it was easily enough to beat Niinoi.

FRANKIE WINS!!! FRANKIE WINS!!! FRANKIE WINS!!!!!!

The magic of football is never ending as even Belfast's second shittest manager applauded Matthew "Frankie" Franklin – the greatest winger and actor in BCFC London Supporters history – claiming his first victory of the season at the 12th time of asking. The Ravenelli of the North took to social media to thank his friend, the Chairman, for his continuous support and that this victory eased the pressure he was facing from his fans. With every winner, there is a loser and it is no surprise that it is Joe O'Neill. If it wasn't Joe, then it would've been Travis, who cage got rattled by 40 points as runaway leader Cieran was in a ruthless mood. A great week for our Aussie managers as both produced thumping victories. In-form Shae looks set to challenge as she scores another big victory to move up to 5th. Smolly hits 81 to beat 2nd place Chris Martin, who is clinging onto that automatic promotion spot by the skin of his teeth. A huge clash at the top saw 3rd v 5th as Big Stoo, who continues to surprise everyone, rose to the challenge to give Aidan a heavy beating. To continue to rise to the occasion is difficult for a man of Stoo's age, but he has found support from somewhere to keep maintaining his performances this season. Just like Pele! Nando's brief flirtation with the top half is over before anyone noticed, as Jodie scores a vital victory in her attempts to stay well clear of Frankie. Loz is often ridiculed, because there is often a lot to ridicule, but he has to be wondering what he did wrong this weekend as a much higher average takes down his decent 59. Neil Parker had a very poor start to the season, so his huge 82-51 victory over Yarrell doesn't get the league position it deserves as he remains in 13th. A good round of Div2 North fixtures.

The premium tournament returns now that the qualifiers have rid us of the lesser managers. What a first round of group actions! Current Champions League Champion, Tom Kidd, struggled in his first match defending the title as Chris Martin holds him to a draw in Group A, allowed Luke Coles to take top spot. Neil Parker gives Andy a thumping to take Group B by the scruff of the neck. Jeddles starts very handsomely as he surprises Steve R with a hefty 83-57 defeat to top Group C. Group D has been laughed at by most as Scott Walker is expected to break all Group Stage records as he progresses onto the QFs and Round 1 doesn't create any surprises. Pretender Tom Starr is given a resounding beating by Shae as she takes control of Group E, Alfie somehow manages to sneak victory over Nando to take second. Dan Western can't buy a point in the league, but smashes Stocker in Group F to take an early lead over Sam Foreman, who defeats Jodie. Raspin holds the advantage in Group G as he gives Bellamy a thrashing. Binns is in hot pursuit as he gives Collis a shoeing. A two tier league is emerging in Group H as the Chairman and Bazza look to leave the Lozs to their personal battle of shittiness. Chairman beating one and Bazza beating the other.

Rules

The most significant rule is what happens when a knock-out fixture ends in a draw/equal points. This applies to:-

- FA Cup
- Champions League qualifiers and knock-out stages
- Last Man Standing for equal lowest scores
- Div2 Play Offs.
- The points league where a Prize position is equal.

The following criteria is used:-

1. The total points scored by ex-Bristol City players in each team for that (or the last) gameweek. The player must have played one (or more) league, FA Cup or League Cup fixtures for BCFC in the past. The totals are added and the highest total wins. If they are still equal.....
2. The last H2H this season. If a draw or they have not played.....
3. The score of the captains. If still equal.....
4. The vice captain. If still equal.....
5. The goalkeeper. If still equal.....
6. The first appearing defender, and so on.

25% of the entry fee supports the BCFC London Supporters Club with their running costs. To that end the WhatsApp group is for fun and “banter”. Keep it all in the spirit of the game.

The Chairman's decision is generally the final say in any areas of contention. If a decision is unpopular, a panel of 5 managers will be assigned to deliberate on the issue in hand. This will consist of Jed Begley (chairman of BCFC Supporters London), the top manager at the time in the points league, the bottom manager in points league, the highest weekly scorer for that week and the lowest. Where a manager is two of these, the second placed manager will be included. They can then discuss the issue and vote.

Have a great season everyone. Thank you for making this competition awesome.
